

Attract Women-

“Discover The Amazing Secrets Of How To Attract Women Without Saying A Word!”

Clueless like so many men is what I was when it came to picking up women. By that I mean shocking! Is this similar to you, I would see an attractive women and, panic and turn to jelly then never approach her.

This was awful and as it does to all men that desire to attract women it began to annoy me. So I searched and found a ton of information on the Internet about how to approach and attract women. Yet none of what I found will improve your chances as much as the amazing technique that is about to be revealed to you.

When it comes to attracting women this method has allowed me to increase the chance of arranging a date, with the women that I approach by at least 50%!

Here it is the very secret that I use to ensure that rate of success and that I lady is interested in me approaching her. This is the way to attract women to you.

Wherever you encounter a beautiful lady you always want to position yourself in HER direct line of vision.

Make eye contact with her and smile slightly.

If the lady returns your smile then you know that she finds you attention nice and would be interested in you approaching her.

If she looks down towards her chest and maybe even blushes a little leave it for a minute or so. If she then looks directly at you, stealing a glance as they say then you are certain that she wants you to approach her.

There you have it, the very same system that I use to attract women without so much as a word said to them.

There are many variations on this method to attract women and they all rely on that all important eye contact.

If the lady is favourable towards you then she is interested in you approaching her. So do it. The chances are that you won't know each other so she will be as nervous as you. This will lead to a stumbled through first lines as you talk to each other and she knows
